

DETAILED ANALYSIS: Swiftmart Grocery | SALES REPORT

Everyone thinks quick-commerce success comes from big cities and large outlets...

But after analysing a Swiftmart Grocery dataset, the data told a completely different story. 🗨️

📊 : I built an interactive dashboard using 8,524 rows , and uncovered insights most businesses might be ignoring.

📈📌 Key KPIs:

- 💰 Total Sales: $1.20M+
- 📦 Total Items Sold: 8,524
- 📊 Average Sales per Transaction: $141
- ⭐ Average Customer Rating: 4.0

🏪 Outlet Size Performance:

- Medium: $507.9K (Highest)
- Small: $444.8K
- High: $249.0K

📍 Outlet Location Performance:

- Tier 3: $472.1K (Top contributor)
- Tier 2: $393.2K
- Tier 1: $336.4K

🏪 Outlet Type Analysis:

- Supermarket Type 1: $787.5K & 5,577 items (Dominates)
- Grocery Store: $151.9K
- Supermarket Type 2: $131.5K

- Supermarket Type 3: $130.7K

Product Insights:

- Regular Fat: 65% ($776K)
- Low Fat: 35% ($425K)
- Top Categories: Fruits & Vegetables, Snack Foods, Household

Trend KPI:

- Peak Sales Year: 2018 ($204.5K)
- Stable growth across years

Pivot Charts Explained:

-  Donut Charts (Fat Content & Outlet Size):

Help visualize contribution % and compare segments easily

-  Bar Charts (Item Type, Outlet Type, Location):

Best for comparing performance across categories and identifying top contributors

-  Area/Line Chart (Outlet Establishment Trend):

Shows how sales evolved over time and highlights peak years

-  Stacked Bar (Fat by Outlet):

Compares Low Fat vs Regular sales across Tier 1, 2, and 3 outlets

 These pivot visuals transform raw data into clear business insights in seconds.

While most assume metros drive growth...

Tier 3 cities + Medium outlets are actually leading sales.

Final Insight:

The next big opportunity in quick-commerce isn't just expansion...

It's expansion in the right locations.

 Tools Used:

- Microsoft Excel (Dashboard, Pivot Tables, Charts)
- Power Query Editor (Data Cleaning & Transformation)

 What's your take —

Are smaller cities the future of quick-commerce growth?

#DataAnalytics #ExcelDashboard #PowerQuery #Blinkit #BusinessInsights #DataVisualization
#FMCG #CareerGrowth